

Jumilla Monastrell Rosado

Spain

Art. Nr. 57289

Wine Description

The grape variety Monastrell, which is also known as Mourvèdre in France, is widely cultivated in the eastern regions of Spain around Valencia and Murcia. It needs a hot, dry climate for it is very late ripening. Already the strong rosé colour signals pure south, also the fragrance inspires and reminds of red fruits like raspberries, strawberries and cherries. In addition, there is a subtle spicy note that is characteristic of Monastrell. The taste is well-balanced with a delicious interplay of freshness and very fine fruit sweetness, which lets the wine finish gently and charmingly.

Region Description

The classic Spanish Flamenco, is an evocative dance captured in the words el juego de los mil placeres or the game of a thousand pleasures. The origin of the word Flamenco could be explained by the dance moves, imitating the courtship display of the flamingo (flamenco in Spanish) a bird common in the salt lakes of South and South-Eastern Spain. This courtship game includes elaborated tiptoeing, stretching and tweaking of the neck and head. The flamenco dancer's outstretched arm represents the flamingo's neck, the hand and fingers mimic the bird's beak.
