

Rhodanos

France | Rhône | Grignan-les-Adhemar AOC

Art. Nr. 57515

Wine Description

This classic Rhône blend of Syrah and Grenache has a garnet red colour and a light to medium body. On the nose, one encounters a summery fruit bowl of red berries, plums and rhubarb, with subtle spicy elements, leather and vanilla in the background. The palate is supple and savoury, the fruity berry characters are underlined by a fine tannin and acidity structure, and the finish reveals delicate spice and floral characters.

Region Description

Grignan-les-Adhémar stretches south of Montélimar, on the left bank of the Rhône. The AOP, which is also rich in tourist attractions, is an area where lavender, oak, truffles, aromatic plants and olive trees grow very well. The Mistral wind provides plenty of sunshine, which favours the richness and generosity of the Grignan les Adhémar wines. The vines thrive in the Mediterranean climate on coarse rolling pebbles, finer gravel, clay and limestone slopes.

The name "Rhodanos", the Latin name for the Rhone, and the design of the label reflect the deep roots of the wine in its origins. A true classic of the wine world, harvested from old vines characterised by low yields and high quality.

Food Pairing:

Perfect with white and red meat, grilled meat and mature mountain cheese. But of course, also with all kinds of dishes with black truffles, for which this region is also known, in addition to its good wines.
