

Montano Real Malbec

Argentina | Mendoza

Art. Nr. 58393

Wine Description

This Malbec is a spicy wine, with notes of nuts and vanilla, as well as plum and wild berries. The palate is medium-bodied, with a long finish. It is a balanced wine, young and honest, without oak ageing and a very subtle residual sweetness.

Region Description

Malbec is the most popular red wine grape variety in Argentina although it is originally from France. The thick-skinned grape is a natural cross of two esoteric varieties that are from Montpellier and Gaillac in the Sud-Ouest. Today the majority of France's Malbec is found in Cahors, a small town on a switchback river that gently flows towards Bordeaux.

Malbec quickly became common as a blending grape in Bordeaux's five wine grapes. However, because of the grapes' poor resistance to weather and pests, it never surfaced as a top French variety. Instead, it found a new home in Mendoza, Argentina where a nostalgic French botanist planted it by order of the mayor in 1868.

Today, Argentina leads production of the grape with over 75% of all the acres of Malbec in the world. In a way, Argentina reinvigorated Malbec as one of the top eighteen noble grapes. Now it grows in many countries and continues to grow in popularity year on year.
