

Benjamin Brunel

France | Rhône | Côtes du Rhone Villages AOC

Art. Nr. 85795

Wine Description

Dark cherry red in the glass; Aromas of blackberries, elderberries, and spices on the nose; dense fruit on the palate, spicy with a perfectly integrated barrique, despite the youth the wine is velvety and harmonious from the tip of the tongue to the reverberation, wonderful finesse and fullness.

Region Description

The winemaking tradition of the Brunel family dates back to the 17th century. Gaston Brunel, a famous négociant, acquired the Chateau de la Gardine in Chateauneuf du Pape in 1945. La Gardine is easily recognised by its famous moulded bottle that originated in the discovery of a mouth-blown bottle during the digs to expand the cellar. The family name 'Benjamin Brunel', crest and motto 'Angulus Ridet' grace the surface, Latin for 'corner of joy'.

While the Cotes du Rhone has 5 appellations in total, the easiest way to look at the region is to divide it into two levels of quality, Cotes du Rhone Villages, which is a higher level of classification and Cotes du Rhone, which is less prestigious, as its terroir is not at the same level as the wines from Cotes du Rhone Villages.

Food Pairing:

Strong sausage specialties, terrines, roast lamb, grilled food, aged cheese
